Application Procedures

Eligibility for Application:

Applicants must meet the following criteria:

1. That they have been recommended by the affiliated universities.
2. That they have a nationality of the country in which the affiliated university locates, and also they intend to enter a university or an equivalent organization in Japan as regular or ※ research students of a graduate school (a master's program) from Spring 2020 or Fall 2020. The research student must stay and conduct his/her research for at least one year in Japan. The field of research is not limited.
3. That their academic records and characters are excellent and that they need financial assistance.
4. That they are able to attend the orientation session after they arrive in Japan as scholarship recipients of the Foundation.

Note:

1. Those who are already studying, conducting research and working in Japan at the time of application are not eligible to apply.
2. ※ Applicants who place a check mark in the box of Research student on the application form No.10 must be enrolled as a “kenkyusei” in a graduate program; research fellow “kenkyuin” is not allowed. If it's found that applicants enrolled as neither regular nor research students, their rights of scholarship might be lost.
3. It is preferable that applicants can speak and read Japanese to some degree, but it is not mandatory.

Additional Information

Application to Japanese university:

We recommend that you should contact universities which you plan to apply for soon because Japanese universities tend to close their application period very early, and acquire the information on application deadline of each university and other necessary information to apply to them smoothly.

Registering at Japanese universities where scholarship recipients are admitted to, visa applications, and any housing arrangements they need to make are solely the responsibility of the recipients. Please note that the Foundation is involved in only the scholarship award.

Orientation:

Scholarship recipients will be provided with an orientation session to explain about necessary procedures. The Foundation will contact the recipients and decide on when to hold the orientation after the recipients' arrival date in Japan is fixed.

Documentation Requirements during the Scholarship Period:

The recipients must submit the following documents during and at the end of the scholarship period:

1. Certificate of enrollment at the university (once every academic year)
2. Research report and its abstract (once every year)
3. Report on student life (once every half year)
4. Certificate of academic records (once every academic year)
5. Final report

Requirement of Reporting Changes:

Scholarship recipients must notify the Foundation any of the following occur, prior to such occurrence.

1. Changing in name, address and/or other major items stated in the application form.
2. The recipient moves for an extended period of time from the residence stated in the document filed after coming to Japan.
3. The recipient leaves Japan for any period, long or short.
4. The recipient takes a leave of absence from, transfers from or leaves the university.
5. The recipient receives a notice of suspension from the school or other disciplinary action.

Suspension or Termination of Scholarship:

In any of the following events, the Scholarship will be suspended or terminated:

1. Any falsehood has been discovered in the information provided in the application form and/or accompanying documents.
2. The recipient has repeatedly violated any of the provisions set forth by the Foundation and has not shown a conscientious effort to improve.
3. The recipient has taken a leave of absence from, transfers from or leaves the university.
4. The recipient has received a scholarship or other privileges from other institution(s) than this Foundation.
5. The recipient has been found to be unworthy of receiving a scholarship from the Foundation due to poor academic performance and/or general conduct.
6. The recipient has significantly harmed the Foundation's reputation.

Return of Scholarship:

In the event of any of the items listed in the preceding section, or in the event of any of the following items, the recipient shall return all or part of the scholarship money that has been awarded:

1. The recipient has left Japan for his/her personal reasons. The amount to be returned will be the living allowance corresponding to the period of absence.
2. Other circumstances deemed reasonable for the return of scholarship.

Request from the Foundation:

We strongly wish to create a long lasting relationship with our scholarship students after they have completed their scholarship periods. We will greatly appreciate your cooperation as advisers to future scholarship students.
